

Just a Little Crazy

Nola goes back to her parents' home after a disagreement with her boyfriend, Quincy, to find some peace and quiet and to sort through her problems. But what she finds instead is a circus of confusion. Her mother, Audrey, is dealing with repairs and redecoration of the house; her father, Lawrence, refuses to help and escapes to work; and an energetic neighbor, Helen, helps watch over Aunt Maggie, Lawrence's somewhat vague sister who recently moved in after possibly poisoning her own cat—and her late husband.

Between the hidden money that turns up missing and Quincy's arrival and bout with food (?) poisoning, these lovable characters try to overcome the differences between the sexes and the generations to keep their relationships intact and Aunt Maggie out of trouble. Lighthearted, hilarious, and vastly entertaining.

Just a Little Crazy

A Play in Two Acts
by Renee C. Rebman

Directed by Pete Warner

Produced by special arrangement with Eldridge Publishing Co.

Cast

Helen Clark	Alesia Sexton
Nola Tupper	Mary Beth Koprovic
Audrey Tupper	Carole Rogers
Aunt Maggie	Soni Foti
Lawrence Tupper	Michael Richardson
Quincy Reardon	Dennis Brown

Crew

Director	Pete Warner
Producer	Clara Jane Rubarth
Stage Manager	Charlie Dye and JoAnn Waldroupe
Wardrobe	Kaye Birkhead and Phanita Williams
Prompter	Sherri Tickler
Props	Jeanne McKim and JoAnn Waldroupe
Set Design	Ron Watson
Set Construction	Ron Watson, Ed Chamberlain, Pete Warner
Set Dresser	Ron Watson
Lights & Sound	Mike Tickler
Lobby Display	Bruce Birkhead
Hair Stylist	Dennis Brown
Technical Advisor	Sondra Foti
Photographer	Jack Jedlicka
Poster and T-Shirt Design	Pete Warner
Cast Party Catering	Jackie & Jim Wright and Gaye

Act I

Scene I—A Summer Morning
Scene II—Later That Evening

Act II

Scene I—A Few Minutes Later
Scene II—Early the Following Morning

Director's Notes

Get ready for an evening of fun. The show you are about to see is sure to make you laugh. The cast and crew have done a wonderful job of preparing a great production for you that we know you will enjoy.

You will meet Aunt Maggie who is just a little crazy (or is she?), Nola Tupper and her boyfriend Quincy whose relationship is in turmoil, Audrey Tupper who is very confused and her husband Lawrence who is in denial, and Helen Clark who is trying to help Audrey redecorate her home and help watch over Aunt Maggie.

Will Nola and Quincy overcome their difficulties? Will Audrey ever get her home redecorated? Will Lawrence ever retire? Will Helen successfully keep peace in the house? And did Aunt Maggie poison her husband and her cat? And is she “just a little crazy?” Sit back, relax, watch, and listen—and all will be revealed.

Characters

Nola Tupper—Mary Beth Koprovic. A woman in transition. Always practical and helpful, she suddenly realizes these qualities aren't getting her the things she wants out of life.

Lawrence Tupper—Michael Richardson. Nola's semi-retired, semi-perceptive father. He likes to have things his way, running smoothly and with a minimum of conflict.

Audrey Tupper—Carole Rogers. Nola's sweet-natured, dizzy mother. She often bears the family's burdens and they have learned to depend on her.

Aunt Maggie—Soni Foti. Lawrence's sister. She has recently moved into the Tupper home after her questionable mental condition led them to believe she needed supervision.

Helen Clark—Alesia Sexton. A neighbor, currently hard at work helping Audrey redecorate and repair the Tupperts' old Victorian home. Brash and self-sufficient, she gets along fine with the odd family.

Quincy Reardon—Dennis Brown. Nola's up-right, computer-genius boyfriend. He lacks sensitivity, and although he loves Nola, he has yet to commit to marriage.