

ANGELA COVEY - Angela finds doing Agatha Christie a little like going home. The good side is it sounds little like the British isle and she is working with old co-workers and new compatriots. The bad side is she must listen to old co-workers and new compatriots trying to reproduce that British sound. Her favorite role is playing nanna to 11 grandchildren.

HELEN HARPER - Helen has appeared in many productions since her first play "The Cemetery Club" in which she played the role of Lucille. She is the wife of Tom who only gets grumpy about rehearsals and late nights after the first 4 weeks. Thank you for your supports and indulgence.

AARON HUFFMAN - Born and raised in Ft. Smith Ar. My love for film and acting increased with my mother's ownership of a movie store for 7 yrs. After attending public school all my life, I knew it just wasn't going where I wanted it to my freshman year of high school. I moved to Tennessee to attend St. Andrews Sewanee, a private school with a wonderful acting program. I am currently 18 and this is my first play. My acting began with improvisation and here I am now in the Little Theatre.

ROBERT CLONINGER - Robert being just 16 has made 4 appearances at FSLT during the year, with parts varying from juvenile delinquent to song and dance man. He is also actively involved in theatre at Northside High School, where he is currently a junior. Robert would like to thank everyone who has motivated him to be a star including Bernadette Peters and Rees-Anne Short.

ROY MOSHER - Roy has participated both on-stage and off-stage in several productions since making his FSLT debut in 1993. He and his wife Rachel reside in Mountainburg where he is secretly working on his unauthorized autobiography.

RACHAEL SHARUM - I was in a few things here at the Little Theatre. I love acting. I'm also in my third year of Drama at Northside, where I just finished with a play. I dedicate my performance to everyone who has supported my dream of becoming an actress. Enjoy your evening at the theatre.

BIOGRAPHIES

ANGELA KING - This is Angela's first appearance on stage - any stage! Photography is Angela's primary hobby and passion and expressing the arts in all forms is her ideal object. Stepping boldly into her role as the self-assured and multi-talented Henrietta, Angela has achieved one more goal in her quest to become the Renaissance woman of the new age.

EMILY WIEDERKEHR - This is my first time on stage at the Fort Smith Little Theatre, although I have worked backstage in a technical capacity. I am a junior at Southside High School, and I was in their production of Annie.

CHRIS JENNINGS - Chris is 19 years old & in his 2nd year of college. Chris has done one play before this called "Deadly Veal". He was one of the 96' Van Buren football team, that won the state championships. He has been in drama for over 5 years.

MICHAEL RICHARDSON - This is Michael's fifth acting role at FSLT. As the arrogant and detached Dr. Cristow, he takes on a character far from his previous comedic performances. He has served as stage manager for two productions and assisted in set design or set construction on most of this season's shows. In his spare time, Michael is general manager of Bollin's Dining Emporium and also manages the Belle Grove Schoolhouse Apartments. He is Treasurer of the Fort Smith Historical Society and the Arts Council of Subiaco Abbey.

CATRINA BAKER - Being a military brat I've done quite a bit of traveling, and wherever I've called home whether it is Hawaii, California or South Carolina I have been bitten by the acting bug. Well darling if we (the cast) have all done our jobs we shall keep you guessing who-dunit to the very end! Then we can all go home and have a nice cup of tea - I do so love a good cup of tea.

JIM MOODY - Jim Moody has gone from Angela Covey's son-in-law to her husband in only twenty-two years...and they said he would never succeed. It only took dedication, perseverance and the theatre to achieve it. Jim is a drama teacher at Northside High School and head of the English Dept.
